We can start your aluminium fabrication project with a fast turnaround time with careful and secure export packaging. All we need are your fabrication drawings in sketches or ideally in CAD. Cutting list service may also be provided if necessary. Scheduling and quality control play an extremely important role in the fabrication process.

High quality standards require monitoring at every stage of the production process right up to the packaging and departure of the finished product. With timely frequent feedback and delivery, we are the most reliable in the industry.

Our customers receive top-notch service and are assured of good quality finishes, quick fabrication turnaround and competitive pricing.
